

Learned Society of the Czech Republic, Masaryk University, and Brno Observatory and Planetarium are jointly inviting you to the panel discussion of the leading Environmental Health scientists on

Global Environment & Health challenges

Monday, April 25th 2022, 15:00-16:30

Brno Observatory and Planetarium

Kraví hora 522/2, Brno

Panelists and key notes:

Global megatrends and workforce preparedness at the intersections of environment and health

prof. Bryan Brooks

Baylor University, USA

Welcome to the anthropocene – an update on pollution and environmental impacts

prof. Gerhard Lammel

Max Planck Institute for Chemistry, Germany & RECETOX Masaryk University

Social, political and environmental impacts on human health: threats and opportunities

prof. Robert Baouki

INSERM Paris and Paris Descartes University, France

Facilitator: Kateřina Poláková, the science editor of the Czech TV.
Discussion will be followed by a 3D projection of the „Space circus“, and informal meet-up of all participants, refreshments and folk music.

The event will be held in English.

